Article from The Boston Christian World

[Written from?] This article was copied from the Liberator of June 14,1844 by Rev. May, having been printed first in The Boston Christian World. It sets forth the Preamble and Resolution prepared by the Hon. Stephen C. Phillips and passed by the American Unitarian Association at its Annual Meeting on May 31,1844. The Preamble mentions the Savannah incident. The Resolution definitely puts the Association on record against Slavery.

‹Leicester, (Mass.)› Wants to correct the impression that his father had stated that the opponents of Rev. John Pierpont had just put their charges against him on paper. Says that the New Organizationists will make any accusation, "however mean or flagrant," against the Mass. Anti-Slavery Society. A. St. Clair claimed that F. J. had paid the traveling expenses of friends of the Mass. Society going to the annual meeting in New York, in order to provide Garrison with support in his struggle with the New Organization. A man named Buffum claimed to have supplied St. Clair with this information. St. Clair referred S. M. Jr. to E. G. Loring for proof of "further & worse charges

To George T. Davis, Greenfield, Mass.

[Leicester, Mass.] The writer realises that Mr. Davis was too busy to attend the Worcester Convention. Does not see how Abolitionists can vote for General Harrison, a pro-Slavery candidate. "I cannot bear to think of Daniel Webster's getting up in Alexandria, and calling on Southern Politicians to bear witness for him, that he is sound on the Peculiar Institution." The writer thinks that if the Abolitionists vote only for Abolition candidates, and thereby throw the election into the House of Representatives, thus electing Van Buren, that it would be good for the Abolition cause, but bad for the country. Abolitionists should be true to their principles in political mat[illegible] Otherwise they will be used by both parties and will be [illegible] off till "a more convenient season."

To Miss Mary Carpenter

[Liverpool, England] The writer thanks Miss Carpenter for a letter and a parcel of contributions to the Anti-Slavery Fair. Says that the Fair breaks down prejudices against Abolition. Speaks about a letter he was asked to take with him. He doubts if he can do this owing to strict regulations against passengers on steamships carrying mail. Quotes the dying address of Rev. Henry Ware to the Unitarian Conference at Providence, R.I. as delivered by Rev. Gannett. Wishes to be remembered to Dr. and Miss Estlin.

[Leicester, Mass.] The writer praises the Dissenters' Chapel Bill very highly.

He then discusses the Anti-Slavery situation in the U.S. at some length, including the past history of the Abolition movement, its internal dissensions, and its conflict with the American churches, who were the chief supports of Slavery, in Rev. May's opinion. He mentions particularly the Calvinist ministers' dislike of W.L.C., and the part played by women in the Abolition movement, referring particularly to Mrs. Lydia M. Child, the Grimkes, and Abbey Kelly. He also speaks of the Liberty party in highly derogatory terms.

The last part of the l[illegible] deals with the A-S Fair, Dr. Channing's biography, t[illegible]moirs of Mr. Acton, Dr. S. H. Dickson, and Dr. McCune Smith, a colored minister.

To Dr. John Bishop Estlin

‹Leicester, Mass.› The writer was much surprized at the excessive carrying charges on the parcel Dr. Estlin failed to get. The purchase of Douglass' freedom was very unpopular among the Abolitionists. Comments on the Wilmot Proviso. Quotes a speech by John C. Calhoun. Gives the Congressional representation of the Slave and Free states. Disapproves of the cost of the Mexican War. Praises a speech by Corvin of Ohio. Mentions the raising of relief funds for the Irish famine sufferers. Explains his distribution of the Brief Notice, and gives the names of the recipients. Will send, when possible, Parker Pillsb[illegible]'s The Church As It Is... Distinguishes between the A[illegible] For. A-S Soc'y and the Liberty Party. A postscript exp[illegible]ed that the missing parcel was put in the Mail instead of the Parcel bag. Thinks that the Irish relief funds will be sent on the frigate Macedonian.

«Boston» The writer met Mr. Hincks. Garrison has been ill in Cleveland. "The western fever attacked him..." The Inquirer deteriorated after Mr. Hincks' departure. Douglass is planning to start a paper in Cleveland. The writer sends some of S. J. May's sermons by Conrad Holsinki. More about Dr. Parkman. Condemns Tagart and his reply to Dr. Estlin. Also W. G. Eliot of St. Louis and Rev. Theodore Clapp of New Orleans. Passage beginning "Act and speak..." summarizes Garrisonian philosophy. Says Abolitionists don't denounce people for not joining their societies. Objects to expediency and double-dealing. Thinks that Holsinki would help with the French edition of [illegible]lass' Narrative. An added page written on Oct.1 ment[illegible] planned revision of the Address. Says H. C. «21 Cornhill, Boston» Replying to the addressee's inquiry, about Wendell (Phillips)' health, the writer states that information for the last two days has been favorable; the day before yesterday Phillips sat up a short time. Reports on Board business. Samuel Brooke was appointed temporary financial agent. The application of Mrs. Reddon (née Sanborn) to be appointed lecturing agent was declined. Addison Davis has "bolted" from the old Anti-Slavery Organization; he told William Bassett, "who is a sort of Free Soil flunky," that he was "now fully committed to the Free Soil movement, and that he was ready to take the stump f[illegible]hem" for $8 a week. Joshua Leavitt advised the "Lynn F«[illegible]S«oil» folks" to raise a fund to send Addison Davis into Es[illegible] county.

«Boston» The writer is sending this letter by the addressee's brother, Warren Weston, who is to sail tomorrow. Wendell Phillips, who was very ill and near death, is recovering very slowly, but steadily. Garrison is much invigorated by the water treatment. The writer tells about the Weymouth annual (A.S.) tea-party. The New Bedford Convention was excellent. "Lucy Stone did remarkably well... She is doing directly & indirectly, a very good work." John Bailey is moving to Lynn, as "N. Bedford seeks to starve & freeze his antislavery fidelity out of him." Describes the election excitement. "The Free Soil party have made a vigorous e[illegible]t; but they are no match for the Taylorites in lying..." Rev, Armstrong evidently got the impression that the A-S meetings were devoted to anti-Sabbatarianism. Claims that an Abolition meeting is not an abuse of Sunday. To Rev. Dr. Edward B. Hall

[Leicester, Mass.] The writer disagrees with Dr. Hall about the emphasis on the word "usual" in the clause "sometimes against the usual observance of the Sabbath." Argues at length about Dr. Hall's statements. Says the Abolitionists preach an Anti-Slavery Gospel and are therefore as clearly entitled to hold meetings on Sunday as any church congregation. The writer also adds that the fact Dr. Hall's sermon might have antagonized the Bristol contributors was not as important as the risk of letting its accusation go unanswered. [Boston] The writer has had to prepare a report for the annual meeting of the Mass. Anti-Slavery Society. Mentions receiving a letter from Parker Pillsbury. Discusses a shipment of pamphlets; the next issue of the Anti-Slavery Advocate; the failure of Frederick William Chesson's periodical, The Watchman; and some other minor transactions. Discusses Stephen A. Douglas' Nebraska Bill at length. Says Garrison is in poor health. He is supervising a course of lectures in New York. Wendell Phillips is lecturing on Slavery and Joseph Barker on the Bible. Discusses Parker Pillsbury at length. The Liberty Bell has been discontinued. Speaks resentfully of Frederick D[illegible]ss.

William P. Powell

[Boston] The writer suggests sending the box of Anti-Slavery reports to William ~~T~~. Powell of Liverpool. Leaves the decision to Mr. Webb. Discusses Mr. Powell's failure to set a low value on the boxes of contributions which resulted in very high import duties. Hears news of the approaching war (probably the Crimean War). Admires the latest number of the Anti-Slavery Advocate. Mentions the suspension of the Watchman. Criticizes the latest British & Foreign A-S Reporter for inaccuracy and omissions. Mentions resentment against Stephen A. Douglass' Nebraska Bill. "In this Union, Slavery is bound to rule and conquer."

‹Boston› The writer sends a receipt for the box of reports. Says the Senate passed the Nebraska Bill. The course of lectures at the New York Broadway Tabernacle was concluded by a lecture by Ralph Waldo Emerson. They have been very successful, owing chiefly to the work of Oliver Johnson. A course of lectures is being given in Boston, the first speaker being Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Suggests letters by Anne Warren Weston for the Anti-Slavery Advocate. Sends a dozen copies of the 'Hartford Bible Conventions Discussion.'

₍Boston₎ The writer was surprized to hear that Parker Pillsbury had said that the National Anti-Slavery Standard was "but little read here(i.e. in the U.S.)". Garrison and Wendell Phillips disagreed with Pillsbury. The writer thinks that he made a mistake. Says the Standard has a small intelligent audience. It differs from the Liberator. Oliver Johnson organized the New York A-S Society and arranged for a very successful course of 13 lectures on Slavery. The Standard is an "authoritative, able and regular exponent of the faith and works of the American Abolitionists,..." It is not dependent on English patronage. The writer is worried about Pillsbury's illness.

‹Boston› This letter is a continuation of the writer's letter of Mar.30,1854 to Richard Davis Webb. The writer says Edmund Quincy estimates ten readers for every copy of the National Anti-Slavery Standard. Quincy also remarked on the influence of the Standard on the newspapers of the country, with many of whom it exchanges issues. The writer decides against giving William P. Powell of Liverpool the work of distributing the pamphlets in the annual box of reports. Says that Stephen and Abby K. Foster agree with him about the Standard. Discusses the Nebraska Bill.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman No.52 A

«Boston» At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Anti-Slavery Society held this day, a resolution was unanimously adopted that "the editorial charge of the Anti-Slavery Standard be proffered to Mrs. Maria Weston Chapman ... believing that in her hands, the Standard will be conducted with a vigor and an ability which cannot fail to extend its circulation ..." One member of the Executive Committee offered $500 towards a suitable salary, and another "expressed his confidence that the entire amount could be easily obtained outside of the ordinary receipts of the Society."

To Richard Davis Webb

«Leicester, Mass.» The writer discusses Garrison's trip to England. Comments on the fact that Garrison lived through thirty years of strong opposition to the abolition of Slavery before the country changed its ways. Has heard from Louis A. Chamerovzow that former enemies of Garrison among the English clergy have changed their attitude toward him. Rejoices over the beneficent results of the abolition of Slavery. Discusses Mr. Webb's projected trip to the U.S. and English contributions to the Testimonial. Sends business accounts. Thinks Garrison is the greatest living man(in response to a question by Mr. Webb), and that one of the female Abolitionists is the greatest living woman. Ment[illegible] William H. Forbes. Sends two newspaper clippings abou[illegible]ed slaves and Reconstruction. A.L.S. 8pp. 5 1/4 x 8 1/4 in.

[Dorchester, Mass.] The writer acknowledges the receipt of a letter from S. J. May, which he praises highly. Refers to S. J. May's gift to the Anti-Slavery Standard, which the writer misunderstood. Criticizes Sallie Holley for disregarding S. J. May's instructions that his donation was not for the Standard, and for another breach of trust of a similar nature. Discusses the advisability of writing to the Standard to correct false impressions created by Wendell Phillips. Says that Gerrit Smith was also misquoted by Phillips. Condemns Phillips' attacks on Garrison. Says Parker Pillsbury and others have quarreled with Phillips over the introduction of the question of woman suffrage. [illegible]ks Phillips was right on this issue. Criticizes Pillsbury[illegible]ntions Lucy Stone. Tells about a meeting of the trustees of the Jackson bequest. To Rev. James Freeman Clarke

Vol.11
No.62

[Leicester, Mass.] The writer asks Rev. Clarke if he has read the biography of Garrison by his children. Discusses G.'s similarity to Peter the Hermit. Thinks Garrison's great virtue was his avoidance of compromise. Believes Slavery would have continued to grow if the Garrisonian Abolitionists hadn't stopped it. Discusses Dr. Channing's claim to the leadership of the Anti-Slavery movement. Says the Unitarian writers have ignored the biography of Garrison.
